The Commonwealth Cup

The winner of the annual gridiron clash between Virginia Tech and the University of Virginia earns more than bragging rights in the state. In recent years, the winning team has also taken home the Commonwealth Cup. The Cup, now residing in Blacksburg after Tech’s 21-9 win over the Cavaliers in Blacksburg last year, was created in 1996 by the universities to remain in the possession of the winner of the in-state rivalry each year.

The Commonwealth Cup, made of marble and cherry wood, is four feet high and weighs more than 100 pounds. The top of the Cup is silver-plated with the names of the two schools. The scores of all 84 games in the Tech-Virginia rivalry are engraved on the sides. A map of the Commonwealth of Virginia with Blacksburg and Charlottesville marked with stars has been etched on the front of the trophy, which was produced by Josten’s.

Virginia Tech gained possession of the Cup first by defeating arch-rival Virginia, 26-9, at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field in 1996. The Cavaliers won it back in ’97 with a 34-20 victory in Charlottesville, and retained it in 1998 with a 36-32 win, before turning it over to the Hokies following Tech’s win in 1999. The Hokies have retained possession of the Commonwealth Cup each year since.

The first game in the Tech-UVa series was played in 1895, 108 years ago. Virginia Tech holds a 43-36-5 edge in the series. The Hokies will visit the Carl Smith Center, home of David A. Harrison III Field at Scott Stadium on Nov. 29 this fall for the 85th clash in this ever-intensifying rivalry.

The Black Diamond Trophy

Virginia Tech began competing for another prize in 1997 when fellow BIG EAST Conference member West Virginia and the Hokies inaugurated the Black Diamond Trophy to commemorate that series. The name “Black Diamond” refers to the region’s history with the coal industry. The trophy is sponsored by Rish Equipment Company, which provides funding for athletic scholarships at both Tech and West Virginia.

Tech will attempt to bring home the trophy this year when it meets the Mountaineers in Morgantown on Oct. 22. West Virginia defeated Virginia Tech the first time the two schools competed for the trophy in 1997 and also last year in Blacksburg, by a score of 21-18. West Virginia leads the overall series, 27-20-1, while the Hokies have won four of six games since the Black Diamond Trophy was initiated.
