Special Teams are an integral part of Hokie football and one of the units is called “Pride and Joy.” These NFL players are also a source of pride and joy due to their commitment to Virginia Tech on and off the field. Virginia Tech has recently constructed a display in the Hall of Legends in the Merryman Athletic Center to honor such former players.

John Engelberger was a dominating defensive end who went from walk-on to four-year starter at Tech, to second-round NFL Draft pick, earning All-America honors and his college degree along the way.

Waddy Harvey was a standout who started three seasons at defensive tackle and won the coveted Williams Award for leadership and character before joining the Buffalo Bills. Frank and Cheryl Beamer sponsored Harvey for recognition on the Pride and Joy display.

Before starting an NFL career, Jim Pyne, a powerful center in the early 1990s, started 41 games and allowed just one sack in over 2,700 snaps on his way to becoming the Hokies’ first unanimous All-American.

Michael Vick was an electrifying quarterback who made a lasting impact on college football while helping Virginia Tech to a national championship game and back-to-back 11-1 seasons before becoming the top NFL pick in 2001.

A two-time All-American, Cornell Brown became the first Virginia Tech football player to gain consensus All-America honors as a junior when he was named to five first teams in 1995. He was selected National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News in 1995.

The following former Hokies are either presently or were a member of a National Football League team or competed in the United States Football League:

Drafted as a punt returner in the third round of the 1995 NFL Draft, Antonio Freeman has far exceeded expectations. He departed Green Bay prior to last season as the fifth-ranking receiver in team annals with 417 catches. He also ranks third in career touchdown receptions with 57 (behind Don Hutson, 99, and Sterling Sharpe, 65) and fourth in 100-yard receiving games with 20. The Baltimore native teamed with Packer quarterback Brett Favre to form the most prolific active quarterback-to-wide receiver duo in the league. The pair collaborated for 57 touchdown passes, ranking fifth in NFL history. This past year, in his first with the Philadelphia Eagles, he caught 46 passes for 600 yards and four touchdowns. His 81-yard touchdown reception in Super Bowl XXXI is the longest in Super Bowl history.

Widely regarded as one of the game’s most dominant defensive players ever, Smith is one of a very select few who can change the complexion of a game by himself. Entering his 19th season in the NFL, the Norfolk, Va., native has been selected to the Pro Bowl 11 times and was the game’s MVP in 1987. He trails only Reggie White (13) and Jerry Rice (12) in selections. Smith led the AFC in sacks with 13.5 sacks in ’96 and 14 in ’97. He was one sack shy of the AFC leader in 1989, ’90 and ’93 and just 1/2 sack shy in ’86, ’87 and ’88. Smith was named the NFL’s Defensive Player of the Year by AP, UPI and several publications in 1996 and 1990. He also earned defensive player of the year honors from NEA and Pro Football Weekly in 1993. He is the Buffalo Bills’ all-time sack leader (171.0) and his career total of 195.0 sacks trails only Reggie White (198.0) for the NFL’s all-time lead in that category. In 2000, his first year with the Washington Redskins, Smith recorded 10.0 sacks and had nine sacks a year ago.

Considered one of the bright young stars of the league, Michael Vick enters his third season with the Atlanta Falcons. In his second year in the league, and first as the starter, Vick led the Falcons to the second round of the playoffs and earned a trip to the Pro Bowl. Last season, Vick started 15 games in the regular season and threw for 2,936 yards and 16 touchdowns while rushing for 777 yards and eight scores. The Newport News, Va., native left Virginia Tech after his redshirt sophomore year and became the No. 1 draft pick of the Falcons in the 2001 NFL Draft. While at Virginia Tech, Vick recorded a 20-1 record as a starter and led the Hokies to the 1999 national championship game after an 11-0 regular season campaign.

* indicates player was voted to the Pro Bowl, but did not participate due to injury.

Former Virginia Tech football players are making their mark in the NFL. Michael Vick was voted to the Pro Bowl following last season while fellow Hokie Cornell Brown won a Super Bowl ring with the Baltimore Ravens in 2001.
