A large media contingent interviews Virginia Tech players at a press conference in New Orleans prior to the 2000 Nokia Sugar Bowl.
The Virginia Tech football team entered the 2004 season looking to recapture the blue collar work ethic that had gotten it to the top of college football. The end to the 2003 season had left a bitter taste in the mouths of the 19 seniors set to play their final season in Chicago maroon and burnt orange. During spring conditioning, a wave of change came over the team spurred by the seniors. The goal was to rekindle the fire of the team by bringing it together.

The mission was simple: to unite the Hokies into an unselfish and disciplined unit, and guide the team through its inaugural season in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The proud Hokies had hopes of a league title and a trip to a Bowl Championship Series postseason game.

The task would be a tough one, as the Hokies were picked to finish sixth in the ACC preseason media poll and were missing from the preseason Associated Press poll for the first time in six years. To add to the challenge, the Hokies would face preseason No. 1 Southern California in the Black Coaches Association Classic to open the college football season.

The senior class and head coach Frank Beamer’s staff felt this team still had something special. Led by quarterback Bryan Randall on offense and lineman Jim Davis on defense, the team had all the makings of a classic Hokie squad. And if the leadership could overcome the losses of running back Kevin Jones, defensive back DeAngelo Hall and center Jake Grove to the professional ranks, their chances for success appeared good.

The first game would be a rough one, as the Hokies entered their opener at FedEx Field in Landover, Md., home of the NFL’s Washington Redskins, as underdogs to the top-ranked Trojans. USC withstood a spirited effort from the Hokies to notch a hard-fought 24-13 win over Tech. The game was played in front of more than 91,000 fans, the largest crowd to ever watch the Hokies.

The same USC team that had to rally to beat the scrappy Hokies will now play in the BCS National Championship against Oklahoma.

Tech stayed in the game and actually led for a large portion of it until USC scored late in the third quarter to take a lead it would never relinquish. Randall provided most of the offense for the Hokies in this one. He completed 14-of-24 passes for 153 yards, with one touchdown, and rushed for 82 yards.

After a week off to refocus, the Hokies were eager to return to the confines of familiar Lane Stadium/Worsham Field for a match-up with the Broncos of Western Michigan. Tech would dominate the Broncos in all phases of the game on the way to a 63-0 victory.

The Hokies pounced early in this game and were never challenged. Promising freshman Eddie Royal showed a glimpse of things to come with an 11-yard touchdown run in the first quarter to open the scoring. Royal took a reverse pitch from Randall and streaked around the right side for his first collegiate score. He would add a touchdown reception later in the game.

The Broncos had a couple of scoring opportunities in the first half but could not convert. Trailig the Hokies 21-0, WMU drove 79 yards to the Tech 5-yard line before being forced to attempt a field goal. Tech’s Jim Davis broke through and deflected the attempt.

Defensive lineman Jason Lallis also made the highlight reel in a bizarre play when Western Michigan quarterback Ryan Cubit threw a pass that was deflected and landed in the arms of offensive guard Mark Ottey. Ottey tried to advance the ball, but Lallis stripped him of the ball and strolled into the end zone from 28 yards away.

Tech and the Hokie faithful had waited over 50 years for their next game: their first as a member of the ACC against the Blue Devils of Duke. Despite the threat of rain and cold weather in the wake of Hurricane Ivan, Virginia Tech’s tilt with Duke on Sept. 18 had the feel of one big party. The Hokies celebrated with 65,115 of their closest friends and some fireworks in a 41-17 victory over the Blue Devils.

The biggest crowd-pleaser of the day came in the second quarter with the Hokies holding a 10-7 lead and five minutes remaining in the half. Tech’s defense had just held Duke to its third straight three-and-out series and took over at the Blue Devil 34 after Duke’s punt. On first down, Randall pitched the ball to receiver Richard Johnson on a reverse. Johnson, a former high school quarterback, looked downfield and lofted a perfect pass to freshman Josh Hyman in the end zone. Hyman got behind his man and made a leaping catch for the score.

With the momentum recaptured after a tough loss to the Trojans, the Hokies were riding a two-game winning streak entering a match-up with the Wolfpack of North Carolina State and its top-ranked defensive unit.

A series of special team letdowns and Brandon Pace’s missed 43-yard field goal as time expired, left Tech behind 17-16 at the end of the game. The Hokies began their last drive at their own 5-yard line with no timeouts and 2:44 left on the clock. Tech was able to move 69 yards in 10 plays, converting a crucial 4th-and-3 along the way. With three seconds left on the clock, the field goal unit took the field. The snap and hold were fine, but the kick floated just inches to the right of the post. The tough loss gave the Hokie faithful a glimpse of how difficult the new ACC schedule would be every week.

N.C. State came into the game as the nation’s top-ranked defense and showed it against the Hokies. The Wolfpack registered 10 sacks, taking 78 yards away from Tech in the process.
Vincent Fuller raced 74 yards for a touchdown return of a blocked field goal in Tech’s 19-13 victory over West Virginia.

Eddie Royal’s 80-yard TD reception against Georgia Tech was the Hokies’ longest play of the season and one of the biggest as well.

After the difficult loss to the Wolfpack, Beamer rallied the troops for the Black Diamond Trophy game against neighboring rival West Virginia. Last season’s 28-7 loss at Morgantown festered with the Mountaineers all year and the seniors had marked the game as a must-win in order for the season to be successful. It would be one of the most physical games the Hokies would play all season, but in the end, the No. 6-ranked Mountaineers would fall, as would their national title hopes, 19-13.

The tight contest was not decided until WVU’s final drive. Starting at their own 11 with 41 seconds on the clock, the Mountaineers completed a 33-yard pass to their 44 and got 15 yards added on thanks to a penalty. But just moments later, WVU quarterback Rasheed Marshall was intercepted by Tech’s Vincent Fuller to end the threat and the game.

Defense was the name of the game throughout as the two rivals squared off. The Hokies held the Mountaineers to three-and-out on each of their first four possessions. On the fourth of those, the Mountaineers opted to go for it on fourth-and-one from the Tech 46. WVU tailback Kay-Jay Harris took the hand off and was drilled by Fuller. Fuller’s hit jarred the ball loose and linebacker Mikal Baqeeq recovered.

Tech’s lone touchdown came when Davis blocked a field goal and Fuller picked up the loose ball and sprinted 74 yards for the score. Tailback Mike Imoh was the sparkplug for Tech, getting the first start of his career and finishing with 115 yards rushing on 30 carries.

The junior running back was just hitting his stride, and carried the momentum of his first career 100-yard rushing game into the Hokies’ match-up with the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest. His 7-yard touchdown run with 2:10 left in that game, followed by the Hokies’ goal line stand in the final seconds, enabled Virginia Tech to escape with a 17-10 victory over Wake Forest at Groves Stadium in Winston-Salem, N.C.

The Hokies led the game 10-7 going into the fourth quarter, but Wake Forest kicker Ryan Plackemeier tied the game with a 20-yard field goal with 6:15 left. After that, Tech’s offense put together its best drive of the second half, led by Randall. The senior hit tight end Jeff King for a 24-yard gain to the Tech 48. He then ran the ball on three of the Hokies’ next five plays, getting Tech to the Wake Forest 11 on a 21-yard run off a quarterback draw. Imoh ran for four yards on the next play, and then scored to end the drive. His 7-yard touchdown run pushed him to the 100-yard mark for the second consecutive week.

The Hokies were beginning to find chemistry on offense, and stalwart Randall had a big game, throwing for four touchdowns, in a 62-0 win over the Florida A&M Rattlers on Oct. 16. Nine different Hokies scored as a sold out Homecoming crowd of 65,115 braved the 38-mph winds to watch the Hokies improve to 5-2 on the year.

Randall completed 9-of-14 for 115 yards before being lifted late in the second quarter with the Hokies up 41-0. He completed touchdown passes to David Clowney, King, Hyman and Jesse Allen before taking a seat so that backup quarterback Sean Glennon could get some work.

Next, Tech traveled to Atlanta, Ga., to face the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech in an ESPN Thursday night game that would not be a pleaser for the home crowd. The Hokies scored 22 points in the final six minutes of the game to rally from a 14-0 deficit and stun the other Tech, 34-20.

The 25 points in the fourth quarter marked the most fourth-quarter points ever scored by a Beamer team, surpassing the 23 points the Hokies scored against Miami in the fourth quarter in 1999. The comeback was Tech’s first fourth-quarter comeback since 2000 when then-reserve quarterback Dave Meyer rallied the Hokies from a 34-27 deficit to a 37-34 win over Pittsburgh.

Georgia Tech took a 20-12 lead with 5:28 left in the game thanks to a 34-yard field goal by kicker Travis Bell. That lead was short-lived as the Hokies’ offense finally got the spark it needed on its ensuing possession. On first-and-10 from the 20, Bryan Randall tossed a pass to Eddie Royal and the rookie cut across the field, sprinting 80 yards for the touchdown, marking the season’s longest play by the offense. The Hokies tied the game when Randall found Richard Johnson all alone in the end zone for a two-point conversion.

Tech’s defense forced Georgia Tech to go three-and-out on the Yellow Jackets’ next possession, and the Hokies wasted little time in scoring again. On the third play of the drive, Randall read a Georgia Tech blitz and found a wide-open Josh Morgan, who went 51 yards for what turned out to be the game-winning touchdown.
Virginia Tech was now in serious contention for an ACC title, but would have to finish the season with four tough opponents, three nationally-ranked foes and unranked North Carolina, which was fresh off an upset of then No. 4-ranked Miami.

Big games, however, were bringing out the best in the Hokies. At UNC, it was Jim Davis who made the play of the game when the Hokies needed it most. His critical quarterback sack late in the fourth quarter forced North Carolina to attempt a 54-yard field goal that fell short, allowing the Hokies to escape with a 27-24 victory at Kenan Stadium in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The victory, the Hokies fifth straight since the loss to N.C. State, made Tech bowl eligible with a 7-2 overall record on the season. The Hokies also moved to 4-1 in the ACC and were tied for first place in the league standings.

Tech's stats against the Tar Heels were highlighted by tailback Mike Imoh's record-breaking performance. The 5-7, 196-pounder from Fairfax, Va., finished with a school record 243 yards on 32 carries and scored two touchdowns. He also caught one pass for three yards and returned three kickoffs for 48 yards, accounting for 287 all-purpose yards.

With the offense and defense clicking on all cylinders as the Hokies got a week off to prepare for the final three games of the season against conference foes, Maryland, Virginia and Miami.

The Terrapins of Maryland took the brunt of a rested and hungry Tech defensive unit that forced four first-half turnovers, allowing the Hokies to score early and often. Tech rolled to a 55-6 victory in another Thursday night ESPN game, this time at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Tech's defense contributed four interceptions and a fumble recovery while holding the Terps to 197 yards of total offense. Meanwhile, Randall threw for two touchdowns and ran for another.

The win set up a game with the Virginia Cavaliers for more than just in-state bragging rights. It was also for a guaranteed share of the ACC Championship. The Cavaliers had been highly touted all year, and would be the Hokies' biggest challenge of the season since facing No. 1-ranked Trojans.

It was the Hokies who kept their ACC hopes alive with a 24-10 victory over the Cavaliers in Blacksburg. Tech's defense dominated for most of the game and the offense finally came around in the second half as the Hokies improved to 9-2 and 6-1 in front of 65,115 fans.

As expected, the game was tight, with the teams playing to a scoreless tie in the first half. Virginia finally broke through with a 32-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter. After a field goal by Pace, Tech held Virginia to three-and-out on its next possession. The Hokies took advantage of a 27-yard punt and started at the Virginia 45-yard line. On the first play, Randall found Hyman streaking down the left sideline and hit him in stride for the 45-yard touchdown, giving the Hokies a 10-7 lead.

Tied at 10, the Hokies went ahead for good in the fourth quarter when Randall hooked up with Hyman again, this time for a 32-yard score. Tailback Cedric Humes sealed the victory with a 37-yard TD run with 5:08 remaining.

Randall completed 16-of-22 passes and finished with an even 200 yards passing. He surpassed Don Strock as Tech's all-time leading passer with a 12-yard completion to Jeff King in the fourth quarter.

Riding a seven-game winning streak, the Hokies traveled to Miami to face a talented and speedy Hurricane squad that had its sites set on a share of the conference crown and a trip to a BCS Bowl. Despite the fact that UM had suffered two unexpected losses, the Hokies never dismissed the challenge they were facing.

Miami remembered a 31-7 loss at the hands of the Hokies last season. This 'Canes team was looking for revenge, but they were left empty handed. Thanks to a dominating defensive performance and a couple of touchdown passes by Randall, Virginia Tech completed its first trip through the ACC by knocking off No. 9 Miami 16-10 to claim the conference championship and earn the league's automatic berth into the Bowl Championship Series.

Tech took the lead for good in the fourth quarter and then used its defense to slam the door on the Hurricanes. Early in the fourth, Royal returned a punt 18 yards to the Miami 39-yard line, giving the Hokies terrific field position. On the next play, Randall hit Royal slanting across the middle and the shifty freshman found his way to the end zone for the deciding touchdown.

Miami's last hopes were dashed by the signature series for Tech's defense. The Hurricanes took over at their own 12-yard line for what would be their final drive with 1:14 to go. Miami quarterback Brock Berlin completed an 8-yard pass to Sinoirce Moss on first down, but Tech's Davis batted down Berlin's next two passes and Tapp swatted away the final attempt to seal the Hurricanes’ fate. Randall took a knee twice as the Hokies ran out the final 57 seconds.

Tech got a huge game from Humes. The redshirt junior took over for Imoh early in the game and rushed for 110 yards on 27 carries to help give the Hokies a 297-190 edge in total offense.

Beamer has called the season “special” on many occasions and the players have given credit to “team chemistry” too many times to count. Those descriptions will be put to the test one more time as the Hokies prepare to play undefeated and third-ranked Auburn in the 2005 Nokia Sugar Bowl Classic in New Orleans, La. The lunch pail work ethic has been restored and this team, with leadership from its seniors, has truly become a team united.

Jim Davis and his defensive teammates slammed the door on the ‘Canes down the stretch as the Hokies beat Miami 16-10 to win the ACC Championship outright.

Coach Frank Beamer

Tech Alum Leads Hokies to 12th Straight Bowl

Virginia Tech couldn’t have asked for anyone better than Frank Beamer to guide its football program into the Atlantic Coast Conference. Beamer, who was the consensus national coach of the year in 1999, may have done his best coaching job in 2004, guiding a young Tech team that was picked to finish sixth in the ACC to a league title and a BCS Bowl.

When Beamer accepted the head football coaching job at his alma mater in 1987, his goal was for the Virginia Tech football program to reach a consistent level of excellence. The Hokies have come a long way since that day, and along the way, Beamer has become one of the most respected and successful coaches on the college football scene.

Beamer is finishing his 18th season at Virginia Tech and his 24th year as a collegiate head coach ranked fourth among active Division I-A coaches in victories with 177. His Tech teams have posted a 111-36 record over the past 12 seasons and appeared in bowl games each year during that span, a feat equaled by just four other schools. Prior to winning the ACC championship, he guided the Hokies to three BIG EAST Conference championships and in 1999 helped direct Tech to the national championship game. Beamer’s Hokies have earned the highest national rankings in the program’s history, spending 60 weeks in the Top 10 of The Associated Press poll over the past six seasons. During one stretch that ended last season, Tech was ranked in 11 consecutive AP polls.

Winning has been just part of Frank Beamer’s success story. He and his staff have earned a reputation for getting the most out of their players. In 2000, Beamer and his staff directed Tech to an 11-1 record after opening the season with eight new starters on defense and an all new lineup in the kicking game. During the 2001 season, the Hokies posted an 8-4 record and appeared in the Top 20 every week despite having to fill four offensive line spots, the quarterback job vacated by sensational underclassman Michael Vick and the tailback spot left open when All-America running back Lee Suggs was lost for the season with an injury. In 2002, the Hokies were 10-4 despite attacking one of their toughest schedules ever with a young team that featured all-new starters at the defensive tackle, inside linebacker and rover positions, as well as major questions at quarterback and wide receiver. This season, the Hokies have won 10 games, an ACC title, a Top 10 ranking and a Sugar Bowl bid despite having to replace 14 starters.

A spot in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to play No. 1 Florida State for the national championship focused widespread attention on Virginia Tech and its football program following the 1999 season. And although the Hokies fell short in their bid for the national title, they proved that they belong among the top teams in the college ranks.

For his part in the Hokies’ magical 1999 season, Beamer earned eight national coach of the year awards. He was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, the GTE Coach of the Year, the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, the Paul ‘Bear’ Bryant Coach of the Year, The Associated Press Coach of the Year, the Walter Camp Football Foundation/Street & Smith’s Coach of the Year, the Maxwell Football Club Coach of the Year and the Woody Hayes Coach of the Year. He also was named the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year for the third time.

There have been plenty of other accolades for the Hokies’ coach. In a survey of Division I-A football coaches conducted by Bloomberg News in the fall of 2000, Beamer was named the best coach a school could hire to run its football program. When BIG EAST Conference football celebrated its first 10 years of existence in 2000, Beamer was voted the Coach of the Decade by the league’s media.

In January 2001, the Tech coach was honored as the NCAA Coach of the Year by The Pigskin Club of Washington, D.C. In May of that year, an on-line newspaper named him the best coach currently in the college football ranks because of his ability to place Tech among the nation’s elite year in and year out.

Following consecutive 10-2 seasons in 1995 and 1996, Beamer was voted BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year by the league coaches. He was one of five finalists in the voting for the 1995 National Coach of the Year. In 1996, The Sporting News queried writers from around the country and asked them to rate the coaches in various conferences. In the BIG EAST, those writers rated Frank Beamer the best coach on game day, the best in game preparation, the best as a motivator, the best as a teacher, the best in big games and the best overall.

In 1999, The Sporting News ranked the nation’s top coaches in terms of their ability to get the most out of their players. Beamer was picked No. 9 in Division I-A. Four of the last six years TSN has rated the Tech coach tops among BIG EAST head coaches. The publication has also ranked the Hokies’ football coaching staff as the best in the conference four times during that span. Street & Smith’s College Football 2002 rated Beamer as the top recruiter in the BIG EAST.

The rise of the Tech football program has made Beamer a man in demand. It has opened doors to places he may never have dreamed of as a youngster growing up in Southwest Virginia.

In September 2000, Beamer was invited to the White House where he joined a select group that stood in the Rose Garden behind then-President Bill Clinton as he made remarks on the Conservation and Reinvestment Act. Beamer was one of the keynote speakers at the American Football Coaches Association Convention in 2000, and in April, 2001, he joined former Prime Minister of Great Britain, Lady Margaret Thatcher, as one of the featured speakers at SUCCESS 2001, one of the nation’s most popular business seminars. Last April, he was presented a Humanitarian Award by the National Conference for Community and Justice for his contributions to fostering justice, equity and community in the Roanoke Valley.

Beamer’s success has also made him a much sought-after coach. In recent years, he has been pursued by numerous other schools and has drawn interest from professional football teams. But in the end, his loyalty has remained with the Hokies.

Beamer has always put Virginia Tech first — ever since he starred as a defensive back for the Hokies in his undergraduate days in the late 1960s, and surely throughout his 18 years as head coach of the Hokies. He has given the Tech program a sense of stability enjoyed by just a handful of other Division I-A schools. Only three other active Division I-A head coaches have been at their current school as long as Beamer.

In 1990, Beamer received a new contract and a substantial pay raise. He refused the raise, however, until such time that all classified and faculty employees of the university could have the same opportunity for pay raises. Most state salaries had been frozen at the time.

Another indication of Beamer’s love for the university came on the night he was inducted into The Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1997. He called it the biggest honor of his entire career. With the induction, he became the first active coach at the university to be honored in that fashion.

Beamer’s overall record at Tech now stands at 135-76-2. He became Tech’s winningest football coach during the 1997 campaign. Counting six years as head coach at Murray State prior to joining the Hokies, Beamer’s overall 24-year record is 177-99-4. That record places him fourth among active Division I-A coaches in wins.

The 58-year-old Beamer, the first alumnus to guide the Hokies since the 1940s, took over the Tech reins from Bill Dooley in January 1987. He began work a few days after the Hokies had beaten North Carolina State in the Peach Bowl. It took a while for him to get the Hokies moving in the right direction because the football program was hit with NCAA sanctions at the time.

But everything came together in the 1990s. The Techmen finished 9-3 in 1993 after beating Indiana, 45-20, in a wild Independence Bowl game. Tech followed up with an 8-4 season in 1994, losing to Tennessee, 45-23, in the Gator Bowl.

In 1994, The Sporting News registered many exciting victories. — No. 6 West Virginia, No. 16 Virginia and No. 9 Miami.

The two winningest seasons in school history followed in 1999 and 2000 with the Hokies posting back-to-back 11-1 records. Tech registered its first-ever 11-0 regular-season record in ‘99 before losing its national championship battle with FSU.

In 2000, the Hokies’ only blemish was a loss at Miami in the ninth game of the season. Both seasons, Tech climbed as high as No. 2 in The Associated Press poll, finishing No. 2 in ‘99 and No. 6 in 2000. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 5 in the 2001 AP poll and finished 18th. In 2002, Tech was ranked as high as No. 3 in the AP poll after posting consecutive wins over nationally ranked LSU (14th), Marshall (16th) and Texas A&M (19th). The Hokies’ youthful team finished the season 18th.

Last season, the Hokies ended No. 2 Miami’s 39-game regular-season winning streak with a 31-7 victory. The Canes were the highest-ranked opponent Tech had ever beaten on the gridiron. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 3 in the polls before falling victim to inconsistent play during the final month of the season. Still, Tech earned eight wins for the 10th time in 11 seasons.

The 2004 season has seen the Hokies bounce back to win their last eight games of the regular season, including victories against three nationally ranked teams — No. 6 West Virginia, No. 16 Virginia and No. 9 Miami.

Beamer’s early Tech teams also registered many exciting victories.
One of the most impressive came in 1990 when the Hokies capped the year with a 38-13 victory over arch-rival Virginia before a crowd of 54,157, which at the time was the largest ever to see a college football game in the Commonwealth of Virginia. During the 1989 season, Tech knocked off ninth-ranked West Virginia and star quarterback Major Harris, 12-10, in Morgantown.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies’ 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams. He received a B.S. in distributive education from Tech in 1969 and a master’s in guidance from Radford in 1972. Then came the start of the Beamer coaching career.

He began as an assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator.

In 1979, Beamer went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at Murray State in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42 wins, 23 losses and two ties. The Tech coach was born in Mt. Airy, N.C., and grew up in Hillsville, Va. At Hillsville High, he earned 11 varsity letters as a three-sport athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

Beamer is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad’s football team at Tech and now an assistant at Mississippi State; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Virginia Tech.

Coach Frank Beamer gets a celebratory shower after the Hokies' 16-10 win at Miami gave Virginia Tech the ACC Championship its first year in the league.
During the Frank Beamer era at Tech, putting points on the scoreboard has always been a team effort — the offensive team, the defensive team and the special teams. It’s called BeamerBall, and what sets it apart are the contributions of the defense and special teams.

• Each of Tech’s last eight teams is ranked among the school’s top 10 highest scoring teams. During that time, a player at every position on the defensive unit has produced at least one touchdown. And 25 different players have scored touchdowns while playing on Tech’s special teams. Altogether, the defense and special teams have combined for 94 TDs since Beamer arrived in 1987, including 77 in Tech’s last 137 games.

• Under Beamer, Tech’s defense has scored 59 TDs, with 36 coming on pass interceptions, 21 on fumble returns and two on fumble recoveries. The special teams have added 35 TDs, including 15 on blocked punts, 12 on punt returns, four on kickoff returns, three on blocked field goals and one on a fumble recovery.

• Fittingly, the trend started in Beamer’s first game as Tech’s head coach when true freshman Jon Jeffries returned a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown against Clemson. It was the Hokies’ first TD under Beamer, and it was scored on special teams.

• Under Beamer, 64 different players on defense and special teams have scored TDs. Fifteen of those players — Don Stokes, Jock Jones, Roger Brown, Lawrence Lewis, Antonio Banks, Jim Baron, Keion Carpenter, Pierson Prioleau, Anthony Midget, Cory Bird, Kevin McCadam, Willie Pile, Jimmy Williams, Vincent Fuller and Eric Green — scored twice. Jason Lalis, Ike Charlton and Ricky Hall each had three scores, André Davis four and DeAngelo Hall had six.

• Since the start of the 1993 season, Tech is 50-8 in games it scores at least one TD on defense or special teams.

Tech's tradition for blocking kicks is another part of BeamerBall. It was carried to new heights in 1998 with 10 blocks during the regular season and two more in the Hokies' Music City Bowl game against Alabama. Tech now has 105 blocks in Frank Beamer's 213 games as the head coach. The Hokies have blocked 53 punts (15 for TDs), 31 field goals and 21 extra points.

- The most prolific kick blockers under Beamer have been defensive lineman Bernard Basham and safety Keion Carpenter, who each posted six blocks during their Tech careers. Basham blocked three field goals and three PATs, while Carpenter blocked six punts.
- Tech blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team. The Hokies blocked 63 kicks during the decade — 31 punts, 18 PATs and 14 FGs. Tech has started the new decade with 30 blocks.

- During its time in the BIG EAST (’91-03), Tech posted at least three blocked kicks against every team in the league. During that span, Tech blocked 10 kicks against Pittsburgh, nine against Miami, seven versus WVU, six versus Rutgers, four against BC and Syracuse, and three versus Temple.
- The teams Tech has victimized the most during Beamer’s 17 seasons have been Pittsburgh, WVU and Miami. During that span, the Hokies have blocked 10 kicks versus the Panthers and Mountaineers, and nine against the Hurricanes.
- During the Beamer era, Tech has blocked two kicks in a game 18 times, winning 13 of those games. Tech blocked two kicks against four different teams in 1998.

Billy Hite

Associate Head Coach and Running Backs Coach

Billy Hite, who has helped develop 22 running backs who have gone on to sign with NFL teams, is completing his 27th season on the Tech coaching staff and his fourth year as the Hokies’ associate head coach.

While at Tech, Hite has helped produce eight of Virginia Tech’s top 10 career rushing leaders. He has been on the sidelines for more Virginia Tech football games than any other coach.

Hite came to Blacksburg as a member of Bill Dooley’s football staff in 1978. He served as a recruiter and head jayvee coach his first two years, then took over as the offensive backfield coach in charge of tailbacks and fullbacks in 1980. He has been coaching Tech’s running backs ever since.

Hite remained at Tech when Frank Beamer took over in 1987 and was elevated to the position of assistant head coach by Beamer the following year. He was promoted to the new position of associate head coach in December 2000.

In 1989, Hite filled in as the acting head coach when Beamer was sidelined following coronary angioplasty surgery and had to miss a home game versus Tulane. Hite didn’t let the Tech faithful down as he led the Hokies to an emotional 30-13 victory.

Hite’s first tailback in 1980, Cyrus Lawrence, went on to establish Tech season and career marks for rushing yards. During the mid-1980s, Hite was credited with the development of Tech’s famed “Stallions” backfield that featured Maurice Williams and Eddie Hunter.

In 2000, tailback Lee Suggs shattered school and BIG EAST Conference scoring records on the way to leading the nation in touchdowns and scoring. Suggs, who also led the conference in rushing, was selected the Co-BIG EAST Offensive Player of the Year. During the 2001 season, with Suggs sidelined by an injury, true freshman tailback Kevin Jones came on to lead the team in rushing and set a Tech record for rushing yards by a freshman. Jones was named the BIG EAST Rookie of the Year.

In 2002, Suggs and Jones combined to become the most productive Tech twosome ever in terms of single-season rushing yardage, combining for over 2,000 yards. Last season, Jones broke Lawrence’s single-season rushing mark and set new Tech records for rushing in a game and 100-yard games in a season. He earned consensus All-America honors before opting to leave early for the NFL Draft, in which he became a first-round pick of the Detroit Lions. Jones’ single-game rushing mark was broken this season when another one of Hite’s pupils, junior Mike Imoh, ran for 243 yards at North Carolina.

A native of Hyattsville, Md., Hite was a former star tailback at the University of North Carolina. He received a bachelor’s degree in education in 1974. Hite began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at UNC in ’74. He was a part-time assistant for the Tar Heels from 1975-77. Hite received one of his highest honors when he was inducted into the DeMatha High School Hall of Fame in 1992.

Hite is married to the former Anne Heen of Memphis, Tenn. They have two daughters, Kirsten Marie, 19, and Bryn Elizabeth Louise, 15, and a son, Griffin William, 11.
Under the direction of Coach Billy Hite, in 2004 ...

- tailback Mike Imoh set a school single-game record with 243 yards rushing against North Carolina.
- the Hokies got an average of 150 yards per game from the tailback position.

During Billy Hite’s tenure at Virginia Tech ...

- the Hokies have rushed for over 61,000 yards — an average of more than 200 yards per game (202.3) over a 303-game period.
- he has had a back rush for 100 yards or more in a game 140 times.
- the Hokies have had an average of 145 yards rushing per game from the tailback position.
- he has coached eight of Virginia Tech’s top 10 career rushing leaders.
- he has worked with seven of the nine Tech players who have turned in 1,000-yard rushing seasons.
- he has coached six different running backs who rushed for over 100 yards in a bowl game.
- a total of 22 running backs have gone on to sign with NFL teams.
- the Hokies have been ranked among the top 20 rushing teams in Division I-A seven of the past 12 seasons.

"I tell all my players to be the best back on the field — to be complete football players. I want them to take the attitude that one man cannot bring them down. I want them to be physical and nasty when blocking; to run good pass routes and catch the football; and to be good actors and carry out their fakes. Once a back touches the ball, they make the decision where to run. I will never second guess a running back with the ball in his arms. If each back protects the football, makes the big play and plays with intensity, we will win."

— Billy Hite

Mike Imoh rushed for a school-record 243 yards against UNC this season.

Bud Foster has gained a well-deserved reputation as one of the nation’s most respected young defensive coaches while serving on Frank Beamer’s football staff at Virginia Tech.

Foster, who is finishing his 18th season at Tech, has helped mold nationally ranked defenses on a yearly basis during his 10 years as a coordinator. His success made him a finalist for the coveted Broyles Award in both 1999 and 2001. The award is presented annually to the nation’s top assistant football coach.

This season’s defense ranks in the top five nationally in total defense, pass defense, scoring defense and passing efficiency defense. Tech’s young 2002 defense was ranked among the national leaders in scoring defense, interceptions and turnovers gained.

Under Foster’s guidance, Tech’s 2001 defense proved to be one of the nation’s best, ranking among the top eight teams in Division I-A in six different categories and leading the way in shutouts with four. In 2000, Foster took a defense that returned just three starters and turned it into a unit that led the BIG EAST in rushing defense, placed 16th nationally against the run and tied for third nationally in interceptions.

After helping Tech to the national championship game in 1999, Foster was recognized as the 2000 Division I-A Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach magazine. Tech’s 1999 defensive unit led Division I-A in scoring defense and ranked third in both total and rushing defense.

Following the 1998 season, Foster was pursued by the University of Florida for its defensive coordinator position, but he opted to continue his long-standing football association with Beamer. That association dates back to 1979 when Foster was a strong safety and defensive end at Murray State and Beamer was the defensive coordinator. Foster began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at MSU in 1981, Beamer’s first season as the head coach.

Since coming to Tech in 1987, Foster has worn several coaching hats. He coached the inside linebackers for one year in 1987, then tutored the outside linebackers for the next five seasons. Foster assumed responsibility for both sets of linebackers prior to the 1993 season and also took over special-teams coaching that year. The following year, he coached the inside linebackers and special teams. Foster assumed the position of co-defensive coordinator in 1995 and took over as the sole defensive coordinator in ’96. The inside linebackers continue to be his primary responsibility.

A 1981 graduate of Murray State, Foster was an outstanding strong safety and outside linebacker from 1977 to 1980. After two years as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Foster was elevated to a full-time staff position. The Nokomis, Ill., native, coached outside linebackers for three seasons before taking over the inside and outside linebackers in 1986. He also served as the Racers’ recruiting coordinator and worked with special teams.

Foster and his wife Jacqueline have three children: Ammie, 25; Grant, 18; and Hillary, 16. In his spare time, Foster enjoys spending time with his family.
The Defense

Under the direction of Bud Foster in 2004, the Hokies’ defense...

- leads the ACC in scoring defense.
- ranks third nationally in pass efficiency defense and scoring defense and fourth in total defense.
- tied a school season record for interception returns for touchdowns with four.
- had 11 different players record interceptions.

During Bud Foster’s one year as co-defensive coordinator and nine seasons as defensive coordinator, Tech has...

- produced two BIG EAST defensive players of the year — Corey Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995.
- had at least one defensive player earn All-America honors every year. Four players gained A-A recognition in 1999 and three in 2001.
- had 35 different defensive players score touchdowns.
- produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.
- held opponents to an average of 104.1 yards rushing and 16.4 points per game over a 115-game span.

Jim Cavanaugh

Strong Safety and Outside Linebackers Coach and Recruiting Coordinator

coaching staff in 1996. Cavanaugh is ending his ninth season as the Hokies’ strong safety and outside linebackers coach and his third year as Tech’s recruiting coordinator.

No one has been more instrumental in bringing top-notch talent to the Tech program than Cavanaugh. Over the past six years, his recruiting skills have helped the Hokies attract, among others, prep All-Americans Michael Vick, Nathaniel Adibi, Bryan Randall, Jonathan Lewis, Marcus Vick, Xavier Adibi and Chris Ellis.

Along with his success in attracting talent, Cavanaugh has also been instrumental in helping players develop their talent once they join the Tech program. During his first season on the job in 1996, outside linebacker Brandon Semones led the team in tackles and earned second-team All-BIG EAST honors.

Cavanaugh has since helped in the development of highly successful safety Pierson Prioleau, Cory Bird, Kevin McCadam and Michael Crawford. Prioleau was a first-team All-BIG EAST pick in 1997 and 1998 and earned third-team All-America recognition from The Sporting News in ’97. He was a fourth-round draft pick of the San Francisco 49ers in 1999. Bird was tabbed a second-team All-BIG EAST pick following the 2000 season and was selected in the third-round of the NFL draft by the Indianapolis Colts. McCadam was one of the keys to Tech’s success in 2001 and was a fifth-round NFL selection by the Atlanta Falcons. Crawford set a position record for tackles with 131 last season and was a second-team All-BIG EAST selection.

Tech’s appearance in the Nokia Sugar Bowl will mark Cavanaugh’s 21st postseason game as a coach. A former star receiver at William & Mary, he is a veteran of 35 years coaching, including 31 as a full-time coach on the collegiate level. He has worked at two other Virginia schools — VMI and the University of Virginia — during his career and has been on the staff of four other ACC schools — North Carolina State, Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina.

Cavanaugh coached at the University of North Carolina for eight years and from 1982 through 1987, he worked under Bobby Ross and Joe Krivak at Maryland. He served two years at North Carolina State, three years under coach Bob Thalman at VMI, one year at Virginia and two years at Marshall. Cavanaugh began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at North Carolina State in 1972.

During his years as a receiver at William & Mary, Cavanaugh surpassed the Tribe career record in receiving with 117 catches and over 1,600 yards. He also earned honorable mention All-America honors in 1967 and was co-captain of his team in 1969.

Cavanaugh was inducted into the William & Mary Sports Hall of Fame in April 2001.

Married to the former Marsha Carnell, he has two children — Ryan, an Appalachian State graduate who works for the Indianapolis Colts and is married to the former Melissa Searls, and Lauren Reddick, who graduated from Virginia Tech in 2002 and is married to Rob Reddick.

Jim Cavanaugh has played a major role in Virginia Tech’s success since joining Frank Beamer’s

“The state of Virginia is, and always will be, the primary focus of our recruiting. In recent years, a number of outstanding players from outside the state have also expressed great interest in Virginia Tech. If you get the best players from the state of Virginia and put them together with some talented players from out-of-state, you’ve got a really good combination.”
— Coach Frank Beamer

“Having coached high school football in Newport News and having spent most of my professional recruiting life in the state of Virginia, I am fully aware of the outstanding quality of the players and coaches within our state. Our objective is to recruit as many of the great players in the state as possible with the goal of winning the national championship.”

Tony Ball
Wide Receivers Coach

Tony Ball, who has 18 years of experience as a full-time collegiate coach, is finishing his seventh season as Virginia Tech’s receivers coach. Ball’s attention to detail and enthusiastic approach to the game of football have helped Tech to a 67-20 record, three bowl championships and an appearance in the national championship game over the past seven seasons.

Ball has shown an ability to motivate and prepare young players, which was instrumental in the development and success of the Hokies’ youthful receiving corps that has gotten 63 catches and 10 touchdowns from its freshmen.

Ball’s successful pupils include split end Ernest Wilford who etched his name in the Tech record books in 2002 and 2003. Wilford became the Hokies’ all-time receptions leader and was the first Tech player ever to post two 50-catch seasons. He was picked in the fourth round of the 2004 NFL Draft by Jacksonville.

Under Ball’s watchful eye, André Davis became one of the nation’s top big-play threats. Davis closed out his Tech career in 2001 ranked among the Hokies’ top three in career catches, receiving yards and touchdown receptions. He was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the second round of the 2002 NFL Draft.

Ball came to Tech in 1998 after serving three seasons as an assistant at the University of Louisville, where he coached the receivers. Prior to his stint with the Cardinals, Ball worked with the running backs at Holy Cross for three seasons. He coached the receivers at his alma mater, UT-Chattanooga, on two different occasions.

During the summers of 1996 and 1997, Ball participated in the National Football League’s Minority Internship Program with the Baltimore Ravens.

Ball began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Austin Peay in 1985 and 1986. While at Austin Peay, he earned a master’s in health and nutrition. He served as restricted earnings coach at the University of South Carolina in 1987, working with the running backs and helping the Gamecocks to the Gator Bowl. His first full-time coaching position came at UTC the following year.

Ball played football for the late Joe Morrison at UT-Chattanooga. He was a standout running back who set numerous school kickoff return records and was recently named to the school’s All-Century Football Team. He finished with a degree in criminal justice.

Ball is married to the former Maria Ann Slayden. They have two children: Anthony, 14, and Keshea, 12.
Danny Pearman

Tight Ends and Offensive Tackles Coach

Danny Pearman, who has coached in Division I-A national championship games at two different schools, is completing his 13th season as a full-time collegiate assistant.

Pearman, who is closing his seventh season as the Hokies' tight ends and offensive tackles coach, brought experience and a sound football background to the Tech staff in 1998. He arrived just in time to help the Hokies to a surprising 8-3 regular season record and a 38-7 victory over Alabama in the Music City Bowl. Pearman helped bring along an inexperienced group of tight ends and also aided in the development of All-BIG EAST tackle Derek Smith, who was drafted by the Washington Redskins following the season. He has since worked with two other all-conference tackles — Dave Kadela and Anthony Davis.

Under Pearman's tutelage, this year's group of tight ends has been the most productive at Tech since 1987 with a combined total of 38 catches. During Tech's march to the national championship game in 1999, Pearman's group of tight ends caught 17 passes, 16 of which went for first downs. The Tech offense led the nation in scoring that year and ranked eighth nationally in rushing.

Pearman's experience and hard work have continued to pay dividends in recent seasons. In 2000, former walk-on Browning Wynn earned second-team All-BIG EAST honors at tight end, while teammate Bob Slowikowski caught a key 72-yard touchdown pass against West Virginia. Following the 2001 season, both players signed with NFL teams after contributing valuable senior leadership to a rebuilding offensive unit. In 2002, Keith Willis caught an 87-yard pass against Syracuse — the longest reception ever by a Tech tight end. Last season, Willis became the first Tech player ever to catch two touchdown passes in a bowl game. Eighty-two of the tight ends' last 104 receptions have resulted in first downs.

Prior to coming to Blacksburg, Pearman helped coach the University of Alabama to six bowls and a national championship between 1990 and 1997. After helping guide the Crimson Tide to the national championship in 1992, he contributed to the Tide winning Southeastern Conference Western Division championships the next four years.

Pearman was a graduate assistant at Alabama for two years, then served as coach of the offensive tackles from 1991 to 1996. He coached the defensive tackles and special teams in 1997.

A native of Charlotte, N.C., Pearman won three letters as a tight end at Clemson from 1983 through 1987. In his playing days, he was named a strength and conditioning All-American. He helped the Tigers win two ACC championships.

Following graduation, Pearman began his coaching career as a graduate assistant with the Tigers in 1988 and 1989. The Tigers won the ACC championship again in '88 and went to bowl games both of Pearman's seasons as a grad assistant.

Pearman has a bachelor's degree in finance and a master's in business administration, both from Clemson. He is married to the former Kristy Sewell of Birmingham, Ala., and they have a daughter, Taylor Brooke, 8, a son Tanner Ryan, 5, and a new arrival this year with Trent Joseph, who was born in February.

Kevin Rogers

Quarterbacks Coach

Kevin Rogers, who played a major role in the development of quarterback Donovan McNabb at Syracuse, is finishing his third season as the quarterbacks coach at Virginia Tech.

The 2004 season marked Rogers’ 26th year as a full-time coach on the collegiate level. He served as an offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at both Syracuse and Notre Dame before joining the Tech staff in January 2001.

Under Rogers’ watchful eye, Tech quarterback Bryan Randall has matured into an outstanding signal-caller who now stands as the Hokies’ all-time leader in passing yards and total offense. In 2002, Randall set a school season record for completion percentage (63.7) and ranked 10th nationally in passing efficiency (143.09). Now, just two short years later, he ranks as one of the most respected athletes in school history.

Prior to a three-year stint at Notre Dame (1999-01), Rogers served as the quarterbacks coach for eight seasons at Syracuse under head coach Paul Pasqualoni. His final two years at SU, Rogers was the offensive coordinator, as well as the quarterbacks coach.

Rogers’ star pupil at Syracuse was McNabb, the BIG EAST Offensive Player of the Year three straight seasons (he shared the award in ’96). McNabb broke most of Syracuse’s passing records which had been held by another of Rogers’ proteges, Marvin Graves, who ranked second nationally in passing in 1992. McNabb was the second overall pick in the 1999 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Rogers first joined the Syracuse staff in 1991 as quarterbacks coach, was named assistant head coach in 1995, served as recruiting coordinator from 1995-97 and was named offensive coordinator in ’97. While at Syracuse, Rogers saw the Orange finish in the final Associated Press Top 25 on six occasions.

Before his tenure at Syracuse, Rogers spent eight seasons on the Syracuse staff in 1991 as running backs coach, was named assistant head coach in 1995, served as the quarterbacks coach, was named offensive coordinator, as well as the quarterbacks coach.

Rogers is heading to his 12th postseason bowl game as an assistant coach and has coached a number of All-Americans and National Football League players in his career, including McNabb, Qadry Ismail, Aaron Brown and Napoleon McCallum.

Rogers is no stranger to the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Brooklyn, N.Y., native is a 1974 graduate of the College of William & Mary and began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Bayside High School in Virginia Beach from 1974-76. At William & Mary, he was a three-year letterman as a linebacker and earned a degree in physical education. He earned a master’s in physical education from Ohio State in 1978.

Rogers and his wife Betty are parents of three children — Kevin, a former quarterback at Villanova and now a scouting assistant for the Indianapolis Colts; Megan, a Notre Dame graduate who currently works for the New York Jets; and Ryan, a senior at Notre Dame.

COACH KEVIN ROGERS
Lorenzo Ward’s reputation as an outstanding coach and recruiter continues to grow following his sixth season on Frank Beamer’s football staff at Virginia Tech. Ward oversees Tech’s cornerbacks and free safeties.

In his previous five seasons with the Hokies, Ward coached five all-BIG EAST players, produced a secondary that helped Tech finish among the national defensive leaders four of the last five seasons and spearheaded the recruiting of the nation’s top high school football player.

His work with the secondary in 1999 contributed to the Hokies finishing No. 3 in total defense and No. 7 in pass efficiency defense. In 2000, Tech tied for third nationally in interceptions and during the 2001 season, the Hokies ranked second in total defense, third in pass efficiency defense, eighth in pass defense and tied for seventh in interceptions. In 2002, Tech led the Division I-A ranks in interceptions with 24. This season, the Hokies lead the ACC in interceptions and rank fifth nationally in pass defense.

Ward was instrumental in Tech’s signing of Pennsylvania running back Kevin Jones in February 2000. Jones, the most highly touted player ever to sign with the Hokies, was rated the top high school football player in the country. Following the 2001 season, Jones was named the BIG EAST Conference Rookie of the Year after leading Tech in rushing. Last season, he broke three Tech rushing records on the way to become a consensus All-American and a first-round pick in the NFL Draft.

Four of Ward’s cornerbacks at Tech — Anthony Midget, Ike Charlton, Ronyell Whitaker and DeAngelo Hall — earned BIG EAST honors, along with free safety Willie Pile. Midget was a first-team pick and Charlton a second-team selection in 1999, while Whitaker was second team in 2000 and first team in 2001. Hall and Pile were second-team picks in 2002. Hall became a first-team All-BIG EAST selection and a second-team All-America pick in 2003 and was the eighth overall player taken in the NFL Draft. Hall and Pile were semifinalists for the Jim Thorpe Award in 2002 and 2003, respectively.

Prior to joining the Tech coaching staff, Ward was a coach at UT-Chattanooga and Alabama. He was named the defensive coordinator at UT-Chattanooga in 1998 after serving as the Mocs’ running backs coach in 1997. Prior to working with the running backs, Ward was the defensive backs coach. He coached strong safety Ron Faugue, who earned both second- and third-team All-America honors in 1996.

An Alabama native, Ward starred for the Crimson Tide from 1986-90. He helped lead Alabama to a 33-15 record and a Southeastern Conference Championship during his career. He was also tabbed Special Teams Player of the Year by The Sporting News in 1990 as the Tide’s unit ranked No. 1 in the nation. Ward played on four bowl teams, helping lead ‘Bama to two Sun Bowl wins.

Ward served two seasons as a graduate assistant at Alabama before spending one season as an assistant coach at Newman High in Newman, Ga. While a graduate assistant, Ward helped coach the Tide to victories in the 1991 Blockbuster Bowl and the 1993 Gator Bowl. He joined the UTC staff as the secondary coach in 1994.

Nicknamed “Whammy” because of his fierce tackles, Ward graduated from Alabama in 1990 with a bachelor’s in physical education. He is married to the former Tara Tubbs. The couple has one son, Lorenzo Donovan Ward, Jr., who is 8.

Charley Wiles
Defensive Line Coach

Charley Wiles, a former All-America player for Frank Beamer at Murray State, has produced four All-Americans of his own since joining Beamer's Virginia Tech staff as defensive line coach in 1996.

Among the top players Wiles has helped develop during his 10 seasons directing the Tech line are ends Corey Moore and Cornell Brown. In 1999, Moore won the Mike Fox/Bronko Nagurski Award as the nation's best defensive player and the Lombardi Award as the best lineman. He also became Tech's second unanimous All-American and was chosen the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year two consecutive years. Brown was a two-time All-America pick, taking consensus honors as a junior in 1995 when he was also named the National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News and the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year.

Wiles also coached John Engelberger, who was named second-team on The Associated Press All-America team and was selected first-team All-BIG EAST in 1999 after earning second-team honors in 1998 and 1997. Standouts David Pugh and Chad Beasley earned first- and second-team All-BIG EAST honors, respectively, in both 2000 and 2001. Pugh was also a third-team All-America pick by The Sporting News and both players were selected in the NFL Draft.

In all, nine of Wiles' players won All-BIG EAST honors. The others were tackle Kerwin Hairston in 1997, tackle Nathaniel Williams in 1999, end Nathaniel Adibi in 2002 and 2003, and end Cols Colas last season.

During the 1999 season, Wiles coached a veteran line that he helped mold into what The Sporting News rated as the best Division I-A defensive line in the college ranks prior to the season. That line helped the Hokies finish first in the nation in scoring defense and third in rushing defense and total defense. Tech's 2001 defensive line was rated as the fourth-best in the Division I-A ranks by The Sporting News.

Wiles is on his second tour of duty at Tech. He originally joined Beamer's Tech staff as a graduate assistant in 1987 and worked in that capacity for two years. Wiles first had a player-coach relationship with Beamer, when Beamer was the head man at Murray State. Wiles won Kodak Division I-AA All-America honors as an offensive lineman in 1986. When he left Tech after the 1988 season, Wiles spent a year on the staff at East Tennessee State. He then returned to Murray State for a six-year coaching tenure, winding up as the Racers' co-defensive coordinator. In 1995, he helped coach the Racers to an 11-0 regular-season mark and a berth in the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs. Wiles also served as Murray State's recruiting coordinator, helping land many of the Racers' top players.

When Wiles rejoined Beamer at Tech in 1996, he fulfilled a goal he had set during his first stint in Blacksburg. The Hokies have competed in bowl games during each season since he rejoined the staff.

A native of De Land, Fla., and a three-sport star at DeLand High School, he is married to the former Andrea Wilder of Booneville, Ind. They have a daughter, Kendell, 8, and a son, Eric, 5.
John Ballein
Associate Director of Athletics for Football Operations

Bsallein holds one of the most important positions in Virginia Tech athletics as associate athletics director for football operations. He was promoted to the position during the summer of 2000 in recognition of his excellent work for Coach Frank Beamer and his program.

Called “the No. 1 administrative assistant in the country” by former Tech AD Dave Braine, Ballein is responsible for all operations dealing with the football program. He continues to serve as assistant to head coach Frank Beamer and as departmental recruiting coordinator, jobs he performed prior to his promotion.

“You name it and John Ballein does it,” Beamer said in a Dec. 18, 1999 article on Ballein in The Roanoke Times. “Just everything that goes on around here — our travel, our recruiting, our camps, our clinics. He is absolutely the best.”

A native of Bentleyville, Pa., Ballein was a linebacker at Indiana University of Pennsylvania and graduated from there with a degree in health and physical education in 1983. He later earned a master’s in education from Old Dominion University in 1987. He has nearly completed his Ed.D in health promotions from Virginia Tech.

Ballein was a teacher and football coach in 1983-84 at Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth, Va., and at Western Branch High in Chesapeake, Va., in 1985-86.

Ballein served on Beamer’s first Virginia Tech staff in 1987 as a graduate assistant coach. In 1988, he accepted a position as running backs coach at Western Kentucky University. He returned to Tech a year later as recruiting coordinator.

With his office adjacent to Coach Beamer’s, he is often considered Beamer’s right-hand man. He deals mostly with the administrative side of the football program, but is one of the favorites among players. His office is a preferred hangout of Tech players, and he is one of the most beloved and respected members of the staff.

“I don’t think [Coach] Beamer could operate without Ballein,” said former Tech standout Corey Moore. “Ballein’s a guy on the ball. Plus, he’s kind of a favorite among the players, too.”

Ballein is married to the former Stephanie Green, who was a basketball player at Tech in her undergraduate days. They have two daughters, Jordan Gray, 9, and Jalyn Ann, 6.

The top research institution in the commonwealth, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University is a comprehensive university of national and international prominence. Virginia’s premier land-grant university, Virginia Tech has grown from a small college of 132 students into the largest institution of higher education in the state during its 132-year history.

Virginia Tech was established in 1872 as an all-male military school dedicated to the original land-grant mission of teaching agriculture and engineering. Today, the co-educational institution, which operates a European studies center based in Switzerland and educational, research and outreach/Extension facilities throughout Virginia, has recognized programs in music, business, architecture and the humanities, as well as its traditional strengths in the sciences, engineering and technology.

Virginia Tech is organized into eight colleges — Agriculture and Life Sciences, Architecture and Urban Studies, Science, Pamplin College of Business, Engineering, Liberal Arts and Human Sciences, Natural Resources and Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine. Together, the colleges offer about 175 bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral degree programs to approximately 28,000 students, who hail from countries throughout the world.

The university’s 2,600-acre main campus is home to more than 100 buildings and hundreds of research laboratories. Adjoining the campus is the 120-acre Corporate Research Center, home to more than 100 companies and 1,800 employees who take advantage of the university’s research and faculty expertise. Within five miles of campus is a 1,700-acre research farm.

Virginia Tech follows the dictates of its motto, Ut Prosim (“That I May Serve”), focusing on its land-grant missions of instruction, research and solving the problems of society through outreach and Virginia Cooperative Extension activities. Through the generation of new knowledge and the outreach mandate, the university disseminates practical knowledge through the classroom and to society as a whole. It is a university that puts knowledge to work.

Instruction

Eight colleges offer more degree programs than any other university in the state, with 62 undergraduate and 115 graduate programs. In addition, the university is one of the nation’s leaders in integrating instructional technology into the curriculum, requiring all entering students to have a computer. The university’s Math Emporium has been hailed as an innovative way to break the credit-for-contact model of classroom instruction.

Research

With annual research expenditures of about $232 million and more than 100 research centers, Virginia Tech consistently ranks among the top institutions in industry-supported research and in the top 10 in the number of patents issued each year.

The university’s faculty and students are involved in more than 4,000 research projects in fields ranging from biotechnology to nanotechnology, from the environment and energy to food and health, and from transportation to computing information.

Outreach

Virginia Tech is involved in a multitude of projects as part of its outreach mission. For example, it spawns economic development, helps global marketing efforts, investigates better uses for strip-mined land, helps clean the Chesapeake Bay and other state waterways, provides design and planning assistance to communities and directs reforestation in Senegal.

University scientists developed the vaccine that is the standard for preventing brucellosis in cattle around the world.

Outreach efforts also focus on education and distance learning techniques — satellite videoconferencing, multimedia, interactive video, interactive computer conferencing and web-based courses, for example — to meet the various needs of working adults and other nontraditional students. Professionals, organizations and communities also tap Virginia Tech’s vast resources, expertise and research results through Continuing Education, which offers hundreds of programs annually.

Virginia Cooperative Extension, operated jointly in the commonwealth by Virginia Tech and Virginia State University, has been helping people improve their economic, cultural and social well-being for nearly 90 years. And while Extension has a long history of helping make America’s agricultural powerhouse more productive and economical, it also does important work — from helping people learn healthy nutritional practices to counseling families in financial distress — in the state’s urban as well as rural areas. With 107 city/county offices, and more than 61,000 volunteers, more than one million participants benefit annually from Extension’s non-formal education. Extension has touched virtually every life in the state in some way.
University President
Dr. Charles Steger

Most people in the university community are keenly aware of Virginia Tech’s aspiration to become a leading national research university. Setting his sights on joining the nation’s truly elite universities, President Charles W. Steger intends for Virginia Tech to be ranked among the top research universities by the end of the decade. His vision has energized the entire university community and has led to new educational and research initiatives across campus and throughout the state. During the last fiscal year, research expenditures continued to grow, reaching $247 million, up from $232 million the year before. In spite of these gains, Steger readily admits his vision for Virginia Tech will be challenging to reach without significantly changing the university’s ability to operate in an increasingly competitive educational market and research environment. For this reason, Steger will be working with leaders at the University of Virginia and the College of William & Mary to secure passage of chartered university legislation, an innovative idea that will promote greater institutional flexibility and growth at the three universities while each retain strong connections to the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Hokie fans will always remember Steger as the president who negotiated Virginia Tech’s membership in the Atlantic Coast Conference, arguably the most prestigious athletics conference in the nation. In its inaugural conference season, Virginia Tech will forge new rivalries that promise to excite fans for years to come.

A registered architect and former dean of Virginia Tech’s College of Architecture and Urban Studies, Steger was an architect of a different sort as the leader of the university’s successful fund raising campaign that concluded in 1998. Under his leadership, as vice president for development and university relations, the Campaign for Virginia Tech raised $337 million. Last year, the university raised $62 million, $8 million more than it did the previous year.

Steger’s ties to Virginia Tech span four decades as a student, professor, dean, vice present and now president. While on the faculty, he twice won teaching excellence awards. When he became dean of the College of Architecture and Urban Studies in 1981, he was the youngest architecture dean in the nation at 33 years of age.

President Steger sits on the boards of several organizations including the Carilion Biomedical Institute; Virginia Agriculture and Consumer Services; Virginia Advance Shipbuilding and Carrier Integration Board; Governor’s Virginia Preparedness and Security Panel; Virginia Innovative Technology Authority, Chair; Virginia Space Grant Consortium, President; Virginia Council of Presidents, Chair; and World Institute for Disaster Risk Management, President.

He is a Fellow in the American Institute of Architects, and received the William C. Noland Award for distinguished service and accomplishments from the Virginia Society of the AIA. The First Virginia Chapter of the National Society of Fundraising Executives recognized him as the Outstanding Fundraising Executive in 1999.

Steger received his Bachelor of Architecture degree, Master of Architecture degree and Ph.D., in Environmental Science and Engineering from Virginia Tech.

James C. Weaver, whose innovative ideas and work as a reformer have made him one of college athletics’ most popular administrators, is the director of athletics at Virginia Tech.

Weaver, 59, was appointed on September 24, 1997 and has been a tireless leader on behalf of Tech athletics. In his years on the job at Tech, Weaver has taken steps to place increased emphasis on projects benefiting student-athletes. He created a comprehensive awards program for letterwinners and has initiated and funded an annual awards banquet.

Weaver has presided over Tech’s move into the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2004-05. Last summer, Virginia Tech and Miami were officially introduced as the 10th and 11th members of the ACC, effective July 1, 2004.

“I’m excited for our fans and our constituency,” Weaver said. “This membership is something that the fan base and alumni and friends of Virginia Tech have wanted for a long time. It’s home for us. We’ve had prior relationships with these institutions for many years and this is something our fans are excited about. I’m happy for them, for our coaches and for our student-athletes.”

A top personal priority for Weaver is the continuing improvement of Tech’s facilities. Major renovations on the west side of Lane Stadium are currently underway. The fencing that surrounds the stadium will be replaced with an actual entrance, additional luxury suites will be constructed, as well as two private club seating areas, new concession stands, a new ticket office, new athletic fund offices, an Athletics Hall of Fame and a new student academic services area.

To meet a growing demand for Virginia Tech football, Weaver spearheaded the construction of the south end zone project to expand seating capacity to 65,115 for the 2002 season. The $37 million expansion project includes an 11,000-seat double deck and provides 15 luxury suites, as well as club level seating and amenities.

Weaver came to Tech from Western Michigan University where he was director of athletics from January, 1996 until he came to Blacksburg. Prior to that, he was AD for three and a half years at UNLV, where he reconstructed a troubled athletic department. A native of Harrisburg, Pa., Weaver was a center and linebacker on Penn State teams coached by the legendary Rip Engle and Joe Paterno.

Weaver graduated from Penn State in 1967 with a bachelor’s in psychology and rehabilitation education. He received a master’s in college counselor education, also from Penn State, in 1968.

Weaver started a coaching career as an assistant at Penn State for six seasons. He later was the offensive coordinator at Iowa State and head coach for one season at Villanova in 1974. He also spent five years as an assistant professor at Clarion State and three years as director of franchise sales at Athletic Attic.

Prior to landing the athletic director’s job at UNLV, Weaver spent nine years at the University of Florida, which was sanctioned by the NCAA in 1983. He was a strong force at Florida in the field of compliance and concluded his time there as associate athletic director.

Weaver and his wife Traci have four sons — Josh, Paul, Cole and Craig.

Game Notes

- The sell-out crowd of 91,665 was the largest ever to see a game at FedEx Field and the largest ever to see Virginia Tech play football. Previously, the largest crowd Tech had played in front of was a turnout of 83,746 at Texas A&M's Kyle Field in 2002.

- Tech quarterback Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) passed for 235 yards against USC. His performance moved him up two spots on the Hokies’ career passing list. Randall, who now has 4,397 career passing yards at Tech, passed Steve Casey (4,299) and Jim Druckenmiller (4,383) on the list and now stands in fourth place.

- All four touchdowns in the Tech-USC game were scored on passing plays. The last time Tech played a game in which all the touchdowns came on passing plays was in 1992 against Southern Mississippi. During that game, each team had a passing TD in a 13-12 USM victory at Blacksburg. There were four field goals in that game.

Young Hokies Give Top-Ranked Trojans a Scare, 24-13

LANDOVER, Md. — No. 1 USC rallied behind the big plays of tailback Reggie Bush to hold off Virginia Tech 24-13 in the season-opening Black Coaches Association Football Classic at sold out FedEx Field.

The crowd of 91,665 was predominately Tech fans and provided a boost as the Hokies took a 10-7 lead in the second quarter and made it stand until the final two minutes of the third quarter. USC, which earned a share of the national championship in 2003, finally regained the lead when Bush hauled in a 53-yard scoring pass.

Tech trimmed the Trojans’ margin to 14-13 on a 42-yard field goal by Brandon Pace with just under eight minutes remaining, but the Hokies’ upset bid was cut short by another big play from Bush. The sophomore USC tailback, who was limited to 27 yards on the ground, did major damage in the passing game, grabbing five passes for 127 yards and three TDs, the last of which came with 5:35 left.

Tech quarterback Bryan Randall led a Tech team that dominated the first half of the contest. Randall rushed for 82 yards in the game and had the Hokies headed in the right direction again in the second half until an offensive pass interference call changed the momentum of the game. USC took advantage of the shift, scoring in just two plays on its next possession to gain the lead for good.

Freshmen Help Hokies Tame Broncos in 63-0 Roundup

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech showed its youth in its home opener against Western Michigan, and in this case it was good. Five freshmen combined for six touchdowns as the Hokies snapped a four-game losing streak with a 63-0 victory against the visiting Broncos.

Tech put together a solid game in all phases. The offense piled up 487 total yards, while the defense contributed two touchdowns and kept WMU out of the end zone for the third time in three meetings. Tech’s special teams added two blocked kicks to go with kicker Brandon Pace’s nine successful extra points and punter Vinnie Burns’ 48.5-yard average.

Quarterback Bryan Randall passed for 253 yards and two touchdowns, while his freshman backup Sean Glennon went 4-for-4 for 79 yards and two TDs in his first college action. Freshman Eddie Royal rushed for a touchdown and hauled in a 35-yard scoring pass to help Tech take a 28-0 lead at the half.

Tech’s last two touchdowns came from players who were touching the football for the first time in a college game. True freshman cornerback Brandon Flowers picked off a pass and returned it 38 yards to the end zone, while redshirt freshman Duane Brown caught a 33-yard TD pass on his first Tech reception.

Game Notes

• The 63-0 win against WMU marked the largest margin of victory for a Tech football team since 1922 when the Hokies defeated Catholic University 73-0. Previously, Tech’s widest margin of victory under Coach Frank Beamer was a 62-0 win against Syracuse in 1999.

• Linebacker Vince Hall (r-Fr., Chesapeake, Va.) made his first collegiate start in the WMU game and registered a team-leading 10 tackles. Eddie Royal (Fr., Herndon, Va.) was also a first-time starter for the Hokies. Royal opened at flanker and contributed two touchdowns in the first half, one on an 11-yard reverse and the other on a 35-yard pass to score to help Tech take a 28-0 lead at the half.

• Local product John Candelas, a junior tailback from Blacksburg High School, led Tech in rushing against the Broncos with a personal-best 52 yards on 10 carries.

Freshman Eddie Royal scored a touchdown on a 35-yard reception and another on an 11-yard reverse in Tech’s 63-0 victory over WMU.

Virginia Tech Wins Its First ACC Football Game 41-17

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech football entered a new era as the Hokies knocked off Duke 41-17 in their first league game as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

It took Tech awhile to get going, but once it did, the injury-riddled Blue Devils had trouble slowing the Hokies down. After falling behind 7-0 in the first quarter, Tech ran off 34 unanswered points, including 24 in the second quarter.

Quarterback Bryan Randall and flanker Richard Johnson sparked the offense. Randall ran for a team-high 93 yards, with 30 coming on a touchdown run that put Tech up 24-7 at the half. Johnson threw a touchdown pass during the second quarter and hauled in TD toss from Randall in the third quarter. Tech finished with 422 yards of offense.

Defensively, end Darryl Tapp registered 2.5 sacks as the Hokies limited Duke to 197 yards of total offense, including just 89 yards through the air. The Blue Devils never gave up the battle despite being successful on just one of 15 third-down conversions.

Darryl Tapp's 2.5 sacks helped the Hokies overpower Duke.

Game Notes

- Redshirt freshman fullback John Kinzer (Fairfax, Va.) made his first collegiate start in the Duke game. Tech started its first two games in a two-tight end set that did not include a fullback.

  - Flanker Richard Johnson’s (r-Sr., Baltimore, Md.) 34-yard touchdown pass to split end Josh Hyman (r-Sr., Baltimore, Md.) marked Johnson’s first collegiate pass completion. The pass was the first touchdown pass by a non-quarterback at Tech since tailback André Kendrick connected with André Davis for a 35-yard score against UAB in 1999. When Johnson caught an 11-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter of the Duke game, he became the first Tech player to throw a touchdown pass and catch a TD pass in the same game since 1981 when fullback Tony Paige accomplished the feat against Wake Forest.

- None of the Hokies’ seven scoring drives lasted longer than 3:10 on the clock. Tech came away with points on each of its five trips inside the red-zone.

- The game marked the first time Tech had beaten Duke in a conference game. Tech was previously 0-6 against Duke in the old Southern Conference.
BLACKSBURG, Va. — North Carolina State stymied Virginia Tech with an attacking defense that registered 10 quarterback sacks, but the Wolfpack's 17-16 victory wasn't assured until a 43-yard game-winning field goal attempt by the Hokies' Brandon Pace sailed just wide on the final play of the game.

In a game dominated by defensive play, the Hokies scratched their way to a 10-3 lead before State used three straight tackles behind the line to force a Tech punt from the 1 late in the second quarter. Boosted by good field position, the Pack moved 34 yards for a game-tying touchdown with less than two minutes left in the half.

NCSU took advantage of a critical turnover by the Hokies at their own 5-yard line to grab a 17-10 advantage in the third quarter. The State defense, meanwhile, limited Tech to just 35 yards of total offense over the first three quarters.

Tech battled back during the final quarter to pick up a pair of field goals, then mounted a final drive to the State 24 to set up Pace's attempt. The Hokies' defense gave Tech a chance to win by holding the Wolfpack to just one first down and 18 total yards during the final 10 minutes of the game.

Game Notes

- Tech's loss to N.C. State snapped a string of 28 consecutive wins during the month of September dating back to 1996.

- Virginia Tech's 192 yards of total offense was the lowest output by the Hokies since netting 185 yards against North Carolina in the 1998 Gator Bowl game, following the 1997 season. The 36 yards net rushing against the Wolfpack was Tech's lowest total since rushing for just 15 yards at Pittsburgh in 2001.

- Quarterback Bryan Randall (Sr., Williamsburg, Va.) started his 29th straight game, setting a school record for the most consecutive starts by a quarterback at Tech during the modern era (since 1950). Steve Casey set the previous record by starting 28 straight games from 1979-81.

- True freshman Eddie Royal (Herndon, Va.) returned three punts in the game for 107 yards. Royal had a long return of 58 yards.

- Fullback John Kinzer scored Tech's first touchdown on a 4-yard reception.

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech went back to the basics in posting a 19-13 victory against nationally sixth-ranked West Virginia at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field. The Hokies used a stout defense, good special teams play and a solid ground game to hand the visiting Mountaineers their first loss of the season.

The key play in the contest came late in the second quarter when Tech defensive tackle Jim Davis blocked a WVU field goal attempt and safety Vincent Fuller picked up the loose ball and returned it 74 yards for a touchdown. The play came with just 1:14 remaining in the half and gave the Hokies a 13-0 advantage. Brandon Pace connected on four of his five field goal attempts to account for Tech’s other scoring.

Tech controlled the football for over 12 minutes of the third quarter, but West Virginia was still able to get on the board thanks to an interception return for a touchdown. The Mountaineers cut the Hokies’ lead to 19-13 with 11:43 remaining, but managed just 36 yards of offense on its last three possessions. Still, the victory wasn’t assured until Tech’s Fuller intercepted a Rasheed Marshall pass with 18 seconds remaining in the game.

Vincent Fuller’s 74-yard blocked FG return (above) and four field goals by Brandon Pace (right) were all the points Tech needed to beat WVU 19-13.

Game Notes

• The West Virginia win marked the first time the Hokies had won a game without scoring an offensive touchdown since 1994. That year, Tech defeated Boston College 12-7 thanks to a pair of field goals and a pass interception return for a TD.

• Mike Imoh (Jr., Fairfax, Va.) earned his first start at tailback and responded with the first 100-yard rushing game of his career. Imoh carried 30 times for 115 yards. He was the first Tech player to run for 100 yards or more in his first start since Kevin Jones in 2001. Imoh finished the game with 206 all-purpose yards.

• The Tech defense kept West Virginia from getting a successful third-down conversion. The Mountaineers were 0-for-13 on third-down attempts.

• Tech posted its first blocked field goal for a touchdown since 2001 at Pittsburgh. The block was the second blocked field goal of the year for tackle Jim Davis (r-Sr., Highland Springs, Va.).
Winston-Salem, N.C. — Signal-caller Bryan Randall engineered a 78-yard touchdown drive in the final minutes and the Virginia Tech defense stopped Wake Forest at the Tech 5 in the final seconds to cap a heart-stopping 17-10 victory in the Hokies’ first Atlantic Coast Conference road game.

Wake Forest trailed the entire game until mounting a 12-play drive midway through the fourth quarter that resulted in a game-tying field goal by Ryan Plackemeier. The Deacons’ were forced to settle for the field goal after three tries at the end zone from the Tech 8.

Tech began what proved to be the winning drive at its own 22 with 6:08 remaining in the game. Randall made four big plays on the drive, completing a 24-yard pass to tight end Jeff King on the second play and racing 12 yards for a first down on a third-and-seven two plays later. Randall added back-to-back runs of 12 and 21 yards to move the ball to the WFU 11.

Tailback Mike Imoh finished his second-straight 100-yard rushing game with a 7-yard TD run.

Wake Forest got the ball back at its own 31 with 2:05 remaining. Eleven plays later, the Deacs were at the Hokies’ 5 when Tech rover Mike Daniels broke up a fourth-down pass.

Game Notes

- Mike Imoh (Jr., Fairfax, Va.) game-winning touchdown was the sixth TD of his career, but his first rushing touchdown. Imoh caught four passes for touchdowns during his first two seasons with the Hokies and also had a kickoff return for a TD.
- Tech’s 18:09 time of possession in the first half of its game at Wake Forest was the most at the break in its first six games of the season.
- Cornerback Jimmy Williams (Jr., Hampton, Va.) recorded his second interception of the season in the second quarter. It was Williams’ fifth career pick.
- Tight end Jeff King (r-Jr., Pulaski, Va.) caught his first touchdown pass of the year and the third of his career to put Tech ahead in the first quarter. Tech’s tight ends caught four passes in the game, all for first downs.

Game Notes

• When Bryan Randall (Sr., Williamsburg, Va.) connected with David Clowney (So., Delray Beach, Fla.) for a TD on Tech’s first offensive play of the game, it marked the first time the Hokies had scored a TD on their first offensive play since 2000 when Michael Vick threw a touchdown pass against Clemson in the Gator Bowl.

• Jeff King (r-Jr., Pulaski, Va.) caught a touchdown pass against the Rattlers to become the first Tech tight end to grab TD pass in back-to-back games since Greg Daniels did it in 1990 against West Virginia and Temple.

Georgia Tech

Tech Comeback Stuns Yellow Jackets in 34-20 Road Win

ATLANTA, Ga. — Virginia Tech erupted for 22 points in the final six minutes of play to complete its second-biggest comeback under Coach Frank Beamer with a 34-20 win at Georgia Tech’s Bobby Dodd Stadium.

The Hokies committed three turnovers during the first half and fell behind when the Yellow Jackets scored two touchdowns within a span of 46 seconds. Georgia Tech led 17-7 at the half and held a 20-12 advantage following a field goal with 5:44 remaining.

Virginia Tech quarterback Bryan Randall engineered the Hokies’ comeback with the help of freshman receivers Eddie Royal and Josh Morgan. Randall hit Royal for an 80-yard touchdown pass and tossed a two-point conversion to senior Richard Johnson to tie the game. A 51-yard TD pass to Morgan put the visitors ahead. An interception return for a touchdown by redshirt freshman Roland Minor with 56 seconds left completed a 25-point fourth-quarter scoring barrage by the Hokies.

Randall finished with 304 yards and three touchdowns through the air and 64 more yards on the ground. After being held to 153 yards of total offense in the first half, the Hokies piled up 311 yards during the final two quarters.

Game Notes

- Virginia Tech’s win at Georgia Tech equaled the second-biggest comeback win for the Hokies during Coach Frank Beamer’s tenure. The Hokies overcame a 14-point deficit in a 22-14 victory at Syracuse in 2000. The biggest deficit Tech has erased under Beamer was 15 points at Virginia in 1995. The Hokies won that game 36-29 after trailing 29-14.

- Virginia Tech’s 25 fourth-quarter points were the most for the Hokies in the final quarter of a game since 1972 when Tech scored 27 points in the fourth quarter of a 44-9 win at Wake Forest. The most fourth-quarter points previously scored during Coach Frank Beamer’s 18 seasons had been 23 points during a 43-10 win over Miami in 1999.

- The Georgia Tech game marked the first time since 1981 that Virginia Tech scored 30 or more points in a game without having at least one rushing touchdown. The Hokies had three passing touchdowns and an interception return for a TD against the Yellow Jackets. In 1981, the Hokies scored all three of their touchdowns on passes during a 43-10 win over Wake Forest.

- Quarterback Bryan Randall (Sr., Williamsburg, Va.) registered a season-high 304 yards passing against the Yellow Jackets. It was his third career passing game of 300 or more yards. Randall passed for 504 yards against Syracuse in 2002 and had 398 yards versus Cal in last year’s Insight Bowl.

Imoh Breaks Rushing Mark in 27-24 Win Over Tar Heels

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Virginia Tech used its running game to build a 13-point advantage and held on for a key 27-24 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over the University of North Carolina at Kenan Stadium. It marked the fifth time this season that a Tech game had not been decided until the final minutes of play.

Junior tailback Mike Imoh turned in the best single game rushing performance in school history and scored two touchdowns to help Tech to a 27-14 lead late in the third quarter. Even then, it took a clutch quarterback sack by senior Jim Davis and a first down run by Imoh during the final 90 seconds to secure the win.

Beating the Hokies at their own game, UNC cut the Tech margin to three with a field goal and a blocked punt for a touchdown. The Tar Heels got the ball with a chance to tie or win with 6:05 remaining. North Carolina moved all the way to the Tech 24 before Davis’ sack on a third-down play forced UNC to attempt a 54-yard field goal. The field goal fell short, but the victory still wasn’t assured until Imoh reeled off runs of 4 and 9 yards that gave the Hokies a first down that allowed them to run out the clock.

Mike Imoh rushed for a Tech-record 243 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Hokies to an important ACC road win over North Carolina.

Game Notes

• Tailback Mike Imoh (Jr., Fairfax, Va.) ran for 243 yards on 32 carries against UNC. Imoh’s yardage total was the highest in a game for a Tech player, surpassing the previous school record of 241 yards set last year by Kevin Jones at Pittsburgh. Imoh’s 32 rushing carries were also a personal best. The junior posted two rushing touchdowns in a game for the first time. Last season, Imoh caught two touchdown passes in a game.

• During the UNC game, Tech had a punt blocked for a touchdown for the first time since the 2000 Sugar Bowl when Florida State’s Tommy Polley blocked a punt and Jeff Chaney returned it for a TD.

• After posting 209 yards of total offense against Tech in the first half, UNC was held to just 87 total yards during the second half. Tar Heel tailback Chad Scott’s 48-yard run during the first quarter was the longest run allowed by the Hokies’ defense all season.

• Fullback Jesse Allen (r-So., Monson, Mass.) made his first collegiate start against the Heels.

Maryland
Thursday, Nov. 18, 2004 • Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va. • Att.: 65,115

Virginia Tech continued its Thursday night magic, turning two early Maryland turnovers into touchdowns and racing to a 55-6 Atlantic Coast Conference victory in front of another Lane Stadium/Worsham Field sellout and a national ESPN audience.

Tech posted its ninth-straight win in an ESPN Thursday night game by forcing five turnovers and converting them into 31 points. The Hokies posted an interception and fumble recovery during the first four minutes of the game. Both led to touchdown runs by tailback Mike Imoh, who left the game with a strained hamstring following his second TD.

Imoh’s departure didn’t slow down the Hokies’ running game, which accounted for 239 yards in the game. Quarterback Bryan Randall contributed two touchdown passes and added a 1-yard touchdown run, while tight ends Jeff King and Jared Mazzetta combined for five receptions, including two for TDs.

Tech’s defense intercepted four passes, with cornerback Jimmy Williams returning one for a touchdown. The Hokies held the Terrapins to 56 yards on the ground and 197 yards overall.

Game Notes
• Tech’s Thursday night win against Maryland on ESPN, improved the Hokies’ record in Thursday night ESPN telecasts to 10-1. Tech has now won its last nine Thursday appearances on the network.
• Tight end Jeff King (r-Jr., Pulaski, Va.) hauled in a 35-yard touchdown pass during the game, the longest reception of his Tech career. King has three TD catches on the year, the most for a Tech tight end in a season since Greg Daniels had four in 1990.
• Another Tech tight end, Jared Mazzetta (r-Sr., Flemington, N.J.), joined King with a touchdown reception. It was Mazzetta’s first TD catch as a Hokie. The last time Tech had two tight ends catch touchdown passes in the same game was in 1994, when Kevin Martin and Bryan Jennings accomplished the feat against Arkansas State.
• Rover James Griffin (Sr., Memphis, Tenn.) and linebackers Xavier Adibi (r-Fr., Hampton, Va.) and James Anderson (r-Jr., Chesapeake, Va.) each posted their first collegiate interceptions during the game with the Terps.
Game Notes

- Jim Davis (r-Sr., Highland Springs, Va.) picked up his third blocked field goal of the season on the opening drive, blocking a 45-yard attempt.
- With a 12-yard completion to Jeff King (r-Jr., Pulaski, Va.) in the fourth quarter, Bryan Randall (Sr., Williamsburg, Va.) passed Don Strock (6,009 yds., 1970-72) and broke a 32-year-old school record for career passing yards.
- The 0-0 halftime tie was the first game Tech had played where neither team scored in the first half since a 1990 game at Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets went on to win that game, 6-3, with all nine points scored coming in the fourth quarter.
- Josh Hyman’s (r-Fr., Chesapeake, Va.) 45-yard catch for a touchdown was a career long, passing his 42-yarder against Western Michigan earlier this year. He finished with four catches for a career-high 93 yards and two touchdowns.
- Tech trailed 7-0 in the third quarter and came back for the win. It marked the fourth time this season Tech has trailed and come back to win. The Hokies also trailed 7-0 to Duke (41-17), 14-0 at Georgia Tech (34-20) and 10-7 at North Carolina (27-24).

Virginia Tech quarterback Bryan Randall tossed two second-half touchdown passes to Josh Hyman and the Tech defense contributed a key goal-line stand as the Hokies defeated state-rival Virginia 24-10 for their seventh straight victory.

Randall gave Tech a 10-7 lead with a 45-yard TD pass to Hyman with just over five minutes left in the third quarter. Virginia responded with a 17-play drive to the Tech one, but the Hokies’ defense held the Cavs on three straight cracks at the end zone to force a game-tying field goal.

The Randall-Hyman connection clicked again in the fourth quarter — this time from 32 yards — to put Tech on top for good. Tailback Cedric Humes extended the lead with a 37-yard touchdown burst at the 5:08 mark and the defense sealed the victory by forcing a fumble on Virginia’s final possession.

The Hokies also made some big plays during a scoreless first half. Senior defensive tackle Jim Davis blocked a Virginia field goal attempt on the Cavaliers’ first possession, and later in the quarter, cornerback Jimmy Williams saved a touchdown when he caught UVA tailback Alvin Pearman from behind on a 78-yard run. Two plays later, Tech recovered a Virginia fumble at the 8-yard line.

Jim Davis (far left) blocked a FG attempt in the first quarter and Josh Hyman caught two TD passes to help lift the Hokies over the ‘Hoos 24-10.

Tech Wins ACC Title with 16-10 Victory at Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. — Quarterback Bryan Randall and a stout Virginia Tech defense proved to be too much for No. 9 Miami as the Hokies captured the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship and a BCS bid in their first year in the league with a 16-10 victory at the Orange Bowl.

Randall broke a 10-10 tie with a 39-yard touchdown strike to freshman receiver Eddie Royal with 11:29 remaining in the game. Tech left the door open for the Hurricanes when the extra point kick was blocked, but the Hokie defense slammed it shut. Miami managed just two first downs during its last three possessions. The Canes’ hopes ended when Tech defensive linemen Jim Davis and Darryl Tapp combined to knock down three consecutive pass attempts. Davis got the first two on second and third down at the Miami 20, then Tapp deflected the final attempt to give the Hokies possession with 57 seconds left.

Tailback Cedric Humes played a big role for the Tech offense, as did tight end Jeff King. Humes rushed for 110 yards on a career-high 27 carries, while King hauled in three catches, including one for a touchdown and another for a key first down with just over two minutes left. Randall completed 11-of-18 passes for 148 yards and added 34 yards rushing.

Miami, which converted just one of 12 third-down situations, was held to just 190 yards of offense and seven first downs during the game. Tech finished with 297 total yards.

Game Notes

- True freshman Josh Morgan (Baltimore, Md.) earned his first collegiate start Saturday, starting alongside true freshman Eddie Royal (Hemdon, Va.). Morgan started at split end while Royal started at flanker. Morgan started in all 11 games this year.

- Eric Green (r-Sr., Clewiston, Fla.) picked up his first interception of the season and the eighth of his career in the first quarter, picking off a Brock Berlin pass on fourth down.

- With the 45-yard field goal by Brandon Pace (r-So., Virginia Beach, Va.), he now has made 21 field goals this season. The school record is 22 field goals in a season, set by Chris Kiner in 1986 and tied by Shayne Graham in 1998. He also has 105 points on the season, three away from a new school record for points in a season by a kicker (107, Graham, 1999).

Virginia Tech will be one of just five teams in the nation making its 12th straight bowl appearance with its invitation to the 2005 Nokia Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, La.

The Virginia Tech bowl tradition dates back to 1947 when the Hokies appeared in the Sun Bowl. Over the last 57 years, approximately 823,000 people have watched Tech in 17 bowl games, in 11 different stadiums and in seven states. The closest distance Tech traveled for a bowl game has been Nashville, Tenn., which is 441 miles, while in 2003 the Hokies traveled to San Francisco for their farthest game, 2,440 miles.

The first bowl bid that Tech received followed the 1946 season, when the Hokies played Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas. An early year and threatened to end all football practices. Bulldozers and snowplows were used to clear a practice area on the Drillfield and the Hokies got in their bowl preparations. The Tech team encountered more snowy weather when it reached El Paso. The Cincinnati team handled the weather and the Hokies, winning 18-6.

It was not until 1966 that Tech received another bowl bid. This time, the Hokies were chosen to participate in the Liberty Bowl in Memphis, Tenn., against Miami (Fla.). The Hokies were 8-1-1 entering the contest and were led by All-American defensive back Frank Loria.

Miami, ranked ninth nationally, won 14-7, in a hard-hitting defensive struggle. The Hokies scored first on a 2-yard plunge by Tommy Francisco. But the Miami defense held Tech to only one first down in the last three quarters.

Tech returned to the Liberty Bowl two years later in 1968, and squared off against Mississippi. The Hokies were 7-3 after a rocky 2-3 start and were led by another defensive All-American, linebacker Mike Widger. Ole Miss had a quarterback by the name of Archie Manning and he sparked the Rebels to a 34-17 victory after Tech had taken a 17-0 first-quarter lead.

A member of Tech’s 1966 and ’68 bowl teams was none other than current head coach Frank Beamer, who was a starting defensive back. He was credited with three tackles in the 1968 game.

Tech next went bowling against Miami, following the 1980 season, and lost 20-10 in a hard-fought Peach Bowl contest. That Hokie team sported an 8-3 record and featured one of the finest defensive units in college football.

Tech tailback Cyrus Lawrence emerged as one of the biggest stars of the game. He rushed for 134 yards and scored the lone Hokie touchdown. Ashley Lee, then a freshman linebacker, had 15 tackles for the Techmen.

In Tech’s first trip to the Independence Bowl in 1984, Outland Trophy winner Bruce Smith led Tech against the Air Force Falcons. Tech’s powerful defensive unit held Air Force to only three first downs in the first half, but the Falcons got rolling in the second half. Quarterback Bart Weiss, named the game’s Most Valuable Player, was the ringleader as Air Force won the battle, 23-7.

Who will ever forget The Kick? It ended perhaps the most stirring bowl game of the 1986 season as Virginia Tech’s Chris Kinzer booted a 40-yard field goal to vault the Hokies past North Carolina State in the New Peach Bowl. The 25-24 victory came with no time showing on the clock and provided Tech with one of its top moments in football history.

The winning drive started with 1:53 remaining in the game. Tech covered 57 yards in 11 plays to move to the State 23-yard line. In the drive, Tech converted a crucial fourth-and-three to move to the N.C. State 28-yard line with 15 seconds remaining. Tech was whistled for holding on the next play, which forced the Hokies to try for a game-winning touchdown pass. Tech wingback David Everett was interfered with by a Wolfpack defender at the goal line and that set up the big moment for Kinzer.

Almost as dynamic was Tech’s 45-20 win over Indiana of the Big Ten Conference in the 1993 Independence Bowl game. The last minute of the first half of the Independence Bowl will be most remembered for its unbelievable action-packed ending. Virginia Tech was leading Indiana, 14-13, with only 35 seconds left until halftime. Indiana had the ball on the Tech 49-yard line, when DWayne Knight exploded through the IU offensive line to cause a fumble. J.C. Price had his hands on the ball but could not control it. That is when Lawrence Lewis got “the world’s greatest bounce,” returning the loose ball 20 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-13 lead over the Hoosiers.

The Hokies, however, were not finished with their dramatics. Tech’s Jeff Holland blocked a Hoosiers’ field goal try with no time left in the first half and Antonio Banks settled under the ball and raced 80 yards for a score to give the Hokies a 28-13 halftime lead.

At the end of the 1994 season, the Hokies fell to a tough Tennessee team, 45-23, in a transplanted Gator Bowl contest at Florida Field in Gainesville.

The high-powered Volunteer offense totaled 495 yards in the affair behind quarterback Peyton Manning (Archie’s son) and their highly-touted tailback James (Little Man) Stewart. Stewart, Tennessee’s all-time leading rusher, ran for three touchdowns and threw for another score en route to earning the game’s Most Chris Kinzer’s game-winning kick in the 1986 Peach Bowl gave Tech its first bowl win.

Tech's Dwayne Thomas would not be outdone, dazzling the 62,200 fans in attendance by rushing 19 times for 102 yards and one touchdown. Thomas had a 1-yard burst for a score in the second quarter and rambled 27 yards to set up Maurice DeShazo's 7-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Tech's 28-10 Nokia Sugar Bowl victory over Texas in 1995 stands alone as the Hokies' biggest win in football postseason play. But the Techmen always seem to find a way to create a special brand of excitement anytime they line up in a bowl game.

The 1995 Sugar Bowl was special, indeed. It was, at the time, the most prestigious bowl appearance ever for the Hokies and they made the most of it. The momentum changed dramatically when game MVP Bryan Still returned a punt 60 yards for a Tech touchdown with 2:34 left in the first half.

Tech gained a lead in the third quarter (14-10) on a 1-yard plunge by Marcus Parker. Then Still got back into the act. He hauled in a 54-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jim Druckenmiller on a play that spelled doom for the Longhorns.

It was Tech's defense that accounted for the team's final touchdown with 5:06 left in the game. All-American Cornell Brown picked up his second sack of the game, causing a fumble. Tackle Jim Baron scooped up the ball and ran 20 yards to score.

In 1996, the Hokies played Nebraska in another Alliance bowl, the FedEx Orange Bowl. That game, too, was a pressure cooker from start to finish. Nebraska won, 41-21, but led by only three points at 24-21 late in the third quarter.

The Hokies made their second trip to the Gator Bowl following the 1997 season to face North Carolina. The Tar Heels impressed a crowd of 54,116 at Alltel Stadium by passing for 318 yards and grinding out 124 on the ground on the way to a 42-3 victory. Tech was held to a total of 185 yards, its lowest total of the season. The Hokies' only points came on a 40-yard field goal by Shayne Graham late in the third quarter. Tech bounced back strong in 1998 by capping a 9-3 season with an eye-opening, 38-7, victory over Alabama in the inaugural Music City Bowl in Nashville. A sellout crowd braved freezing rain and a wind chill that dipped below 15 degrees to watch the Bears past the Hokies. The Hokies, who were playing in their 11th-consecutive bowl game, finished the season 8-5 overall.

The loss overshadowed a brilliant game by Tech's offense. Bryan Randall had four touchdown passes and a rushing TD, accounting for five of Tech's seven scores. Keith Willis became the first Tech player ever to catch two touchdown passes in a bowl game, while Ernest Wilford broke Antonio Freeman's career mark for receptions. Kevin Jones, who played in his final game as a Hokie before heading to the NFL, led the Hokie rushing attack with 16 carries for 153 yards and one touchdown.

Michael Vick caught the nation's attention when Tech played for the national championship following the 1999 season. Again, Tech pulled off a victory over Texas in 1995 by capping a 9-3 season with a winning margin of 52-49 in the 2003 Insight Bowl, which was held in front of 42,364 fans at Bank One Ballpark in Phoenix, Ariz. Cal kicker Tyler Frederickson made two field goals for Arizona, but Tech got the last laugh with a 41-20 victory over Clemson. The Hokies earned the fifth bowl win in school history. Tech capped off its 10-1 season with 41-20 victory over Clemson. Despite André Davis' 158 receiving yards in his final game as a Hokie, Tech was unable to hold off Florida State and lost the 2002 Gator Bowl, 30-17. The senior class that joined Davis in its last game at the Gator Bowl went down as the winningest class in school history with a 39-9 record. The Hokies took their show to the West Coast following the 2002 season and captured a win in the Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl. Tech's 20-13 win over Air Force gave the Hokies a 10-4 final record and marked the third time in four years that Tech had posted 10 or more victories. Tech quarterback Bryan Randall was named the game's most valuable offensive player. He completed 18-of-23 passes for 177 yards and did not have any turnovers.

As Virginia Tech and Miami began their first season in the Atlantic Coast Conference, few people expected the two newcomers to break the stranglehold Florida State had held on the ACC championship since its inception into the league in 1991.

Going into the last weekend of the season, however, the newcomers were the ones holding all the cards. On Dec. 4, 2004, the Hokies and Hurricanes took the field, battling for the conference championship. With a 16-10 win, Tech captured the crown outright, finishing the season with eight straight wins en route to a 10-2 overall record and 7-1 ACC mark in its inaugural season. The Hokies’ only league loss was to North Carolina State by a single point, 17-16. Tech’s other loss was to No. 1 Southern California.

The turning point in the season could have come while playing non-conference rival West Virginia. After the loss to the Wolfpack, the Hokies rebounded by knocking off then-No. 6 WVU, 19-13. The win started a streak that carried Tech through the end of the season, ensuring the ACC championship along the way.

Throughout much of the country, expectations weren’t high for Virginia Tech football as it entered the ACC. Most of the preseason publications and reports had the Hokies finishing as far down as sixth in the expanded ACC. One even picked Tech eighth. After a 2-2 start, however, Virginia Tech rose from the ranks of also-ran to champion of the coveted ACC.

With their blue-collar, lunch pail mentality, the Hokies allowed just eight touchdowns during their six remaining ACC games, capping their championship run with back-to-back victories over then-No. 16 in-state rival Virginia and then-No. 9 Miami.

On April 16, 2003, the country found out that the ACC was going to expand, but no one knew who the new teams were going to be. Just over two months later, after an unexpected whirlwind of twists and turns, Virginia Tech and Miami – both members of the BIG EAST – accepted invitations to be become the 10th and 11th members of the ACC beginning in 2004-05. In October 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the conference’s 12th member starting with the 2005-06 academic year.

“Virginia Tech has finally come home,” said Tech AD Jim Weaver. “This membership is something that the fan base, alumni and the friends of Virginia Tech have wanted for a long time. We’ve had prior relationships with these institutions for many years and this is something our fans are excited about.”

Over the course of the 2004 season, Atlantic Coast Conference teams have occupied slots in The Associated Press Top 25 poll 61 times and have held spots in the USA Today/Coaches poll 68 times. Virginia Tech has been ranked in both polls during each of the last eight voting periods, starting at No. 23 on October 18. The teams in the league have combined for 27 appearances in the top 10 of the Associated Press and 25 times in the USA Today/Coaches poll, including the Hokies’ ranking of 10th and ninth in the last two polls.

While seven of the 11 schools attained bowl eligibility, the conference will send six teams to postseason play. Florida State, Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Virginia will be joining Tech and Miami in bowl games. Clemson also won the necessary six games, but chose not to accept any invitations to the postseason.

By winning the ACC title, the ninth-ranked Hokies have earned the right to face No. 3 Auburn in the Sugar Bowl. No. 17 Florida State has accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl and will face West Virginia in the Peach Bowl, which will be held in Atlanta, Ga. North Carolina will tangle with No. 25 Boston College in the Continental Tire Bowl, which will be played in Charlotte, N.C. No. 18 Virginia will play Fresno State in the MPC Computers Bowl in Boise, Idaho.
